

About Settlers, Inc.

Since 1971 costumed Settler members have researched the early Americana domestic arts and crafts, their politics, history, folklore and mechanics involving the many skills needed to survive early America. Settlers shared their knowledge with the community via their Speakers Bureau and their programs at the Swinney Homestead.

The Swinney Homestead

In 1980 Settlers leased and moved into the Swinney House and began teaching classes in a historical, elegant setting. As part of their mission, they also initiated the restoration of the house which is owned by the City of Fort Wayne and is on the National Historic Register.

Settlers'
1849 Log House

The 1849 Log House on the property is much like the one the Swinney family lived in before the stately house was built. It was laboriously moved, piece by piece, from Huntington County and is used for Settlers activities and Living History presentations.
